About Barnard
Founded in 1889, Barnard College is devoted to empowering young women to pursue their passions. The College’s singular combination of excellence across the arts and sciences, world-class faculty, the vast academic resources of Columbia University, and access to New York City’s infinite opportunities prepares our students for long-term success.

Barnard/Columbia Partnership
Barnard is an independent institution with its own policies, endowment, and trustees. Our singular agreement with Columbia University means:
- Barnard is considered one of Columbia University’s four undergraduate colleges and students have access to libraries, facilities and activities on both campuses
- Barnard and Columbia undergraduate students cross-register in courses at both institutions
- Barnard students compete in NCAA Division 1 athletics through the Columbia-Barnard Athletic Consortium
- Students receive a diploma from both Barnard College and Columbia University

Curriculum
Introduced in 2016, Barnard’s Foundations Curriculum gives students the freedom to shape their own educational experience while being challenged to think theoretically, empirically, and technologically, write effectively, and speak persuasively.
