

Barnard College Alumnae
Members, National Academy of Sciences

Jacqueline Kapelman Barton '74

Pioneer in the study of DNA structure; recipient, MacArthur Genius Fellowship; first woman to chair the Division of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering, California Institute of Technology; recipient of the National Medal of Science

Joan S. Birman '48

American mathematician specializing in low-dimensional topology; made contributions to the study of knots, 3-manifolds, mapping class groups of surfaces, geometric group theory, contact structures, and dynamical systems; research professor emerita at Barnard

Carol Dweck '67

Groundbreaking psychologist behind mindset theory; Lewis and Virginia Eaton Professor of Psychology at Stanford University

Karen Goldberg '83

American chemist, currently the Vagelos Professor of Energy Research at University of Pennsylvania; most known for her work in inorganic and organometallic chemistry; Barnard trustee

Evelyn Hu '69

Gordon McKay Professor of Applied Physics and Electrical Engineering at Harvard University and reviewing editor at the journal Science; recipient of the 2019 IEEE Andrew Grove Technical Field Award

Eva J. Neer '52 +

Revolutionized the study of cell biology; second woman to hold title of professor of medicine and biochemistry at Harvard; recipient of the Basic Research Prize from the American Heart Association in 1996 and the Excellence in Science Award from the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology

Elissa L. Newport '69

Professor of neurology and director of the Center for Brain Plasticity and Recovery at Georgetown University; specializes in language acquisition and developmental psycholinguistics

Helen Ranney '44 +

Physician-scientist who pioneered research in hemoglobin genetics; first female chair of an American department of medicine, at the University of California at San Diego; first female president of the Association of American Physicians and American Society of Hematology

Ora Mendelsohn Rosen '56 +

Cell biology researcher specializing in the study of insulin's influence on cell growth

Myriam Sarachik '54 +

Belgian-born American experimental physicist; distinguished professor of physics at the City College of New York; recipient of the 2020 American Physical Society Medal for Exceptional Achievement in Research for her "contributions to the physics of electronic transport in solids and molecular magnetism"

+ deceased

Barnard College Alumnae
Members, American Academy of Arts & Sciences

Stephanie J. Barron '72

Senior curator and department head of modern art at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA), where she has been responsible for more than 100 exhibitions

Jacqueline Kapelman Barton '74

Pioneer in the study of DNA structure; recipient, MacArthur Genius Fellowship; first woman to chair the Division of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering at the California Institute of Technology

Helen M. Berman '64

Board of Governors Professor of Chemistry and Chemical Biology at Rutgers University; founder and director of the Nucleic Acid Database; former director of the RCSB Protein Data Bank

Joan S. Birman '48

American mathematician specializing in low-dimensional topology; made important contributions to the study of knots, 3-manifolds, mapping class groups of surfaces, geometric group theory, contact structures, and dynamical systems; currently research professor emerita at Barnard

Carol Dweck '67

Groundbreaking psychologist behind mindset theory; Lewis and Virginia Eaton Professor of Psychology at Stanford University

Nancy Farriss '59

Historian; professor emerita at the University of Pennsylvania; specializes in the colonial history of Mexico; founded the Latin American Cultures Program at Penn in 1986

Katherine E. Fleming '87

Deputy provost and vice chancellor, New York University, as well as Alexander S. Onassis Professor of Hellenic Culture and Civilization in the Department of History at NYU; permanent professeur associé in the Department of History at the École Normale Supérieure, Paris

Ellen Futter '71

President of the American Museum of Natural History; president of Barnard College 1981-1993; youngest person ever to assume the presidency of a major American college

Susan Gal '70

Mae & Sidney G. Metzl Distinguished Service Professor of Anthropology, Linguistics, and Social Sciences at University of Chicago; director, Center for Eastern European, Russian, and Eurasian Studies

Lynn Garafola '68

Professor of dance at Barnard; dance historian, critic, and the author of Diaghilev's Ballets Russes and Legacies of Twentieth-Century Dance

Helene Gayle '76

American doctor; CEO of the Chicago Community Trust, one of the nation's leading community foundations

Nancy Gertner '67

Former United States District Judge of the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts; professor of practice at Harvard Law School

Karen Goldberg '83

American chemist, currently the Vagelos Professor of Energy Research at University of Pennsylvania; most known for her work in inorganic and organometallic chemistry; Barnard trustee

Susan R. Goldman '70

Distinguished professor of psychology and education in the University of Illinois at Chicago's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences; founding co-director of UIC's Learning Sciences Research Institute

Rebecca Goldstein '72

Author; former Barnard professor who taught courses in philosophy of science, philosophy of mind, philosophy of psychology, the rationalists, the empiricists, and the ancient Greeks; recipient of a MacArthur Genius Fellowship and the National Humanities Medal

Ursula Goodenough '64

Professor emerita of biology, Washington University in St. Louis, where she engaged in research on eukaryotic algae

Maria Hinojosa '84

Mexican American journalist; anchor and executive producer of Latino USA on National Public Radio; founder, president, and CEO of Futuro Media Group

Evelyn Hu '69

Gordon McKay Professor of Applied Physics and Electrical Engineering at Harvard University; reviewing editor at the journal Science; recipient of the 2019 IEEE Andrew Grove Technical Field Award

Frances Kamm '69

American philosopher specializing in normative and applied ethics; currently the Henry Rutgers University Professor of Philosophy and Distinguished Professor of Philosophy at Rutgers University; the Littauer Professor of Philosophy and Public Policy Emerita at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government; professor emerita, Department of Philosophy at New York University

Helene Kaplan '53

Of counsel to the firm of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP; served in the not-for-profit sector as counsel or trustee of many scientific, arts, charitable, and educational institutions and foundations

Darcy B. Kelley '80

American neurobiologist; Weintraub and HHMI Professor in the Department of Biological Sciences at Columbia University

Linda K. Kerber '60

May Brodbeck Professor in Liberal Arts & Sciences at the University of Iowa; teaches courses in gender and legal history

Helen Longino '66

Clarence Irving Lewis Professor of Philosophy, Emerita at Stanford University; argued for the significance of values and social interactions to scientific inquiry; written about the role of women in science; central figure in feminist epistemology and social epistemology

Susan Lowey '50

American biophysicist researching the structure and function of contractile proteins; professor, Department of Molecular Physiology & Biophysics at the University of Vermont

Elizabeth McNally '83

Elizabeth J. Ward Professor of Genetic Medicine at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine in Chicago; uses genetics to define pathways that mediate heart and muscle degeneration leading to cardiomyopathy, heart failure, and skeletal myopathies

Elissa L. Newport '69

Professor of neurology and director of the Center for Brain Plasticity and Recovery at Georgetown University; specializes in language acquisition and developmental psycholinguistics

Sigrid Nunez '72

Author of eight novels, including A Feather on the Breath of God, The Last of Her Kind, Salvation City, The Friend (New York Times bestseller; 2018 National Book Award winner), and, most recently, What Are You Going Through

Jessie Ann Owens '71

Distinguished Professor, Renaissance Music, History of Theory, Early Modern Studies, Emerita, University of California, Davis

Marjorie G. Perloff, Ph.D. '53

Sadie Dernham Patek Professor of Humanities, Emerita, Stanford University; teaches courses and writes on 20th- and 21st-century poetry and poetics, both Anglo-American and from a Comparatist perspective, as well as on intermedia and the visual arts

Anna Quindlen '74, TE

American columnist and novelist; third woman to win a Pulitzer Prize for commentary (1992)

Joan V. Ruderman '69

American molecular and cell biologist; professor emerita, Harvard University; visiting senior biologist at Princeton University

Kim Lane Scheppele '75

Laurance S. Rockefeller Professor of Sociology and International Affairs in the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs and the University Center for Human Values at Princeton University; her work focuses on the intersection of constitutional and international law, particularly in systems under stress

Susan Stamberg '59

Nationally renowned broadcast journalist and special correspondent for NPR; first woman to anchor a national nightly news program; winner of every major award in broadcasting

Twyla Tharp '63

Award-winning choreographer; recipient, MacArthur Genius Fellowship

Judith Weisenfeld '86

Agate Brown and George L. Collord Professor of Religion at Princeton University; African American religion scholar

Irene J. Winter '60

Professor emerita, retired William Dorr Boardman Professor of Fine Arts, Harvard University; art historian, working primarily on archaeological materials of the ancient Near East

+ deceased