Request for Exception to the Elementary Language Rule

As stated in the Barnard College Catalogue:

Although credit for the first semester of an elementary language is not normally granted unless a more advanced course is completed, a student is granted one exception maximum to this rule on written request to the Registrar.

I am hereby requesting my one-time exception to the elementary language rule, stated above. Please give me credit for the following course:

Student's name: ___________________________    Barnard 7-digit ID #: _______________________

Language: ___________________________    Semester taken: ___________________________

Point value of course: _________________________    Date of graduation: _______________________

Student's signature: ________________________________________________________________
